The Chicago Manual Training School and Its Growing Popularity.

Manual training has laid hold upon the imagination of the American people The register of the Chicago Manual Training School contains the names of visitors from all parts of this country, from Canada, and from England. On last commencement-day seven hundred persons visited the school, passing through the several laboratories and witnessing the exercises. It is true. many of those visitors were relations and personal friends of students; but relations and personal friends of students of schools of the old regime visit them very frequently. Many of the visitors of manual training schools are women. They are enthusiasts on the subject of the new education. Their comprehension of it is clearer than that of men. This is doubtless because they are possessed of a higher degree of intuition, are more imaginative, more unselfish and less ambitious, and have less aversion to labor. Froebel found women better adapted to the work of teaching than men. The kindergarten and manual training are identical in principal; but the kindergarten has struggled long, and as yet unsuccessfully, except in a few instances, for admission to the schools, while manual training, a thing of yesterday in its educational aspect, has conquered all the educational outposts, and now waits only the formal possessed of a higher degree of intuiposts, and now waits only the formal surrender of the garrison of the citadel. It possesses the fascination of the con-crete as opposed to the drowsy effect of abstract speculation. The Manual Training School building itself power-fully attracts the healthy active boy. Smoke issues from the tall chimney that rises high above the roof, and the hum of machinery is heard, and the heavy thud of the sledge resonnding on the anvil makes music in the ear.

The interior is more attractive still.

The interior is more attractive still. The rhythmic motion of the polished Corliss engine responds to the now throbbing heart of the expected lad. The shafting in the wood-turning laboratory speaks of mystery. It is a labyrinth of belts, large and small, of wheels, big and little, of pulleys and lathes. A student moves a lever a few inches, and the oreath of life is breathed into the complicated mass of machinery. into the complicated mass of machinery. From the engine far away come the currents of its power. The whir of steam-driven machines salutes the ear, and the class of twenty-four students take their places at the lathes. So in the laboratory of forging the furnace fires give back an answering glow to the g ow of the visiting lad's flushed cheeks. All this is in very sharp contrast to the monotony of the recitation-room of the old regime. The superiority of the new over the old education consists largely in the fact that it alternates the purely mental with the mental and manual exercise combined.

During the pauses of labor in the laboratories of the Manual Training School the well equipped instructor delivers a series of brief lectures on subjects growing logically out of the exercises. In the drawing-room he skytches in bold outline the biographies o' the great masters of the graphic art. In the laboratory of carpentry he disuses the natural history of certain trees, and considers the qualities of woods, their adaptability and various uses. In the wood-turning laboratory the subject of wood-turning laboratory the subject of the history of turnery is found to be not less delightful than exhaustible, and the manipulations of the iron and steel laboratories are closely allied to all the great events of the world's history. The moulding and easting laboratory is richly suggestive of subjects for discus-sion.—Charles H. Ham. in Harper's Mag-

JUST AS BAD AS PAINTED.

Widespread Commotion Caused by the Terrible Confession of a Physician. The story published in these columns recently, from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, created a deal of comment here as it has elsewhere. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester, bere as it has elsewhere. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows. Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well-known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper a few days ago which was daily published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal inquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed necessary.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion at his residence on Andrew street, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued; such as you can sustain!"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. I was brought so low by neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time, could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think I meant snything serious. The medical profession has been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. The symptoms I have just hentioned or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of kidney disease more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough, but try to help the longs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headache, pains about the body or other symptoms but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these aliments."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it Doctor!"

"Precisely. Thousands of diseases are torturing people to-day, which in reality are Bright's disease in some of its many forms. It is a hydra-beaded monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and other common complaints, which is see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first!"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy. I am getting ny eves thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am belling others to see the facts and their possible danger also."

Mr. Warner, who was visited at his estabment on North St. Paul street, spoke very sarrestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease had increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics that from "70 to '80, its growth was over 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off, and is taking off every year, for while many are dying apparently of paraly sis and apoplexy, they are really victims of kidney disorder, which causes heart disease, paralysis, apoplexy, etc. Nearly every week the papers record the death of some prominent man from this scourge. Hecently, however, the increase has been checked and I attribute this to the general use of my remedy."

"Do you think many people are afflicted with it to-day who do not realize it?"

"A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease, He bad various fluids under microscopic analysis and various fluids under microscopic analysis and was showing the students what the findications of this terrible malady were. 'And now, gentlemen, he said, 'as we have seen the unhealthy indications I will show you how "Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner, some three years ago, Doctorf" was asked Dr. S. A. Latti-more, one of the analysts of the state board of health."

"Yes, sir."
"What did this analysis show you!"
"A serious disease of the kidneys."
Did you think Mr. Warner could recov-

"No, sir. I did not think it possible."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him!"

"I have chemically analyzed it and find it pure and harmless."

Dr. Henion was cured five years ago and is seel and attending to his professional duties to-day, in this city. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question, and the statements they make can not for a moment be doubted. Dr. Henion's experience shows that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, but that it can be cured if taken in time.

-"I must have order in this court room," sternly demanded a justice of the peace. "I must and will have less and confusion here. I have already disposed of three important cases without being able to hear a word of the evidence." - Philadelphia Cali.
